DuFresne to be installed

Dr. Siemers presides Friday

Some 75 universities and colleges and ten learned societies will have delegates present when

President R. A. DuFresne

Dr. Robert A. DuFresne is installed as the tenth president of WSC tomorrow afternoon.

The ceremony will begin with an academic procession at 1:30 p.m. into Somsen Auditorium. In that procession will be the State College Board, the official delegates, the faculty of the college, student representatives, the presidential party, and the president.

Dedication of the $1.4 million addition to the college library will follow the inaugural ceremony. This will incorporate a reception for the new president. Greetings from the universities, colleges and learned societies will be on display there.

The Inaugural Dinner and Ball will follow at 8 p.m. in the Union.

The inauguration ceremony will include the investiture by Lt. Gov. James Goetz, Winona; the charge by Dr. Frank G. Chesley, Red Wing, president of the State College Board; and the inaugural address.

A highlight will be presentation of the bejeweled presidential medallion by John Ross, Red Wing, president of the Student Senate, in honor of the college and the president. Citizens and faculty members have contributed the jewels for the medallion, designed by Miss Floretta Murray, head of the art department, and students have financed its striking.

Among the platform guests will be Charles L. Balcer, Winona State graduate of 1942 and now president of Augustana College, Sioux Falls, S.D., who will represent the alumni; Winona Mayor R. K. Ellings, and the presidents of Winona State's two sister colleges in the city: Brother Gregory Robertson, St. Mary's, and Sister M. Camille Bowe, College of Saint Teresa.

The college band, directed by Richard Lindner, plays for the processional and recession; the college choir, directed by Richmond McCluer, will sing; the Rev. Harold Rekstad, First Congregational Church, will give the invocation, and the Rev. Martin Olsen, chaplain, Newman Center, the benediction.

Presiding will be Dr. Curtis Siemers, vice president for student affairs.

Special seating will be provided for the delegates and faculty; for representatives of the community; for the husbands and wives of delegates and representatives; for the alumni and for the wives of faculty members. Reserved seats will be held Friday until 1:15; then visitors may enter without tickets.

A recreation center for visitors will be operated in Memorial Hall until the ceremony.

The library dedication will be a brief one and will include the lieutenant governor, Dr. Chesley, Dr. DuFresne, Dr. Nels Minne, who served as college president until December 31, 1966, and Edward Jacobsen, director of the library.

The library addition, occupied last summer, more than doubles the space afforded by the previous building.

THE TRAVELERS 3, a folk-rock singing and instrumental group, will give two performances in Somsen Auditorium, Monday, February 5.

Kane announces job opportunities

John Kane, Director of Financial Aids, announced that there are openings in the College Work Study Program. Students, particularly those from low-income families and married students, are potentially eligible for employment. Students may work up to 15 hours weekly while attending classes full time. The current wage is $1.25 per hour.

A financial aid form plus the Parents' Confidential Statement has to be completed before a student may begin work. Students who have a National Defense Student Loan for spring quarter may transfer to the Work Study Program in lieu of a loan. Interested students are urged to apply at the Financial Aids Office.

Deadline for spring quarter applications is March 1. Students applying for scholarships are reminded to have their applications in before April 1.

Mr. Kane expressed his appreciation to the 700 students who attended the financial aids meetings on January 11. Students who attended and follow the instructions given will know the amount and type of financial aid for next year before leaving for summer vacation.

Senate elections coming up soon

Candidates for upcoming Student Senate elections are urged to file their candidacy during the week of February 19-23.

At that time there will be fourteen offices open, including president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer; housing, academic, social, public relations, and homecoming senators; and four senators-at-large. The deadline for filing is 5 p.m. February 23.

The junior senator in charge of elections will meet with all candidates on February 26 and campaigning begins March 1 at 4 p.m. All campaign material must be removed from walls by 4 p.m. March 7. Elections take place the next day.

Those seeking an office are to contact Jim Brodie at 776 Gilmore Avenue or in the Student Senate office, room 106 Somsen. Applications should include name, address, and the position sought.

WSC to bring Travelers 3 as second Big Name group

by Joan M. Wierzb

The TRAVELERS 3 will be appearing at Winona State College on February 5. Their two, one hour and fifteen minute performances are at 7 and 9 p.m. in Somsen Auditorium. Tickets are on sale in the Student Activities Office in the basement of Krysko Commons and at Emil's Men's Store in downtown Winona. The charge is $1.00 pre-sale for WSC students and $1.50 at the door. The general public will be charged $1.50 pre-sale and $1.75 at the door.

The sticker of FOLK-ROCK is placed on the music of the TRAVELERS 3 because they do not know what else to call it. It is not the kind of folk-rock that most people are accustomed to, and perhaps can be best described with their own quote: "Our concept of folk-rock is incorporating the eroticism of the big beat with the lyric and musical integrity of folk music."

THEIR MUSIC seems to include a bit of jazz, ragtime, even country-western. It is not their intention to please everyone; it is not that kind of act. They shy away from the mundane beaten path of "everybody's hits" and have proven that their brand of music can be at the same time both different and popular.

The TRAVELERS 3 include four people, the only "trio" of that type. Originally in 1959 the group had only three members and began in Eugene, Oregon while associated with the University of Oregon. The addition of drummer Mike Botts in 1964 raised the trio's membership to four.

The musical roots of Mike Botts are imbedded in a heavy traditional history of jazz. His formal musical training was at Sacramento City College.

BASSIST JOE LAMANNO gives full support to the group's rhythm section. Like Mike he too suspended his studies while in math at Sacramento City College to work with the TRAVELERS 3. Among his duties, Joe serves as the group's unofficial road manager.

The other two in this group of four are Pete Apo and Charlie Oyama, both Hawaiian born.

Pete Apo, the guitarist, shoulders the group's public relations chores and wants some day to become a writer-composer.

CHARLIE OYAMA, of oriental ancestry, leads the group through their comedy routines and plays a twelve string guitar. He has a master's degree in psychology earned at the University of Oregon.

The performance of the TRAVELERS 3 at Winona State College is a second in a series of three Big Name groups to appear here during the 1967-68 school year.

Winona Campus Ministry plans an interfaith center

The Winona Campus Ministry has purchased two lots adjacent to the Winona State College campus with the view of building an interfaith center.

The Ministry, incorporated under state laws, represents many religious denominations in scattered buildings near the campus.

The board has representation from the Lutheran Student Association, Newman Apostolate and Wesley-United Campus Christian Fellowship. President is Joseph Emanuel, chairman of the division of science and mathematics; vice president, the Rev. Jerry Benjamin, Grace Presbyterian Church, and Robert Langford, Winona lawyer, secretary-treasurer.

Participants believe that united efforts, rather than divided interests, can best serve the religious needs of the campus community now and especially in the future when the enrollment should reach 5,000. Such interfaith activities clearly reflect college and university trends nationally, participants said.

The first phase has been successfully initiated among several religious organizations on campus. Students and professional workers have cooperated on various programs such as cooperative worship services at the community Memorial Hospital Convalescent and Rehabilitation Unit, visits to each other's churches, joint meetings and classes, homecoming activities, and a united effort in offering a non-denominational religious class for credit.

A joint venture is now being planned for an all-college folk worship program on February 18 in Somsen Auditorium, Winona State.

Editorials:

Medallion success unlikely

At press time, it already seems quite unlikely that the student fund drive to raise money for the president's medallion will be anything near a success. Two questions arise at this point: Should it have been undertaken in the first place, and where will the money come from if the students haven't raised $1,260 by the time you read this?

We fully realize that time was a critical factor in the entire project, so a general student referendum would have been next to impossible, but why wasn't the Student Senate approached on the subject? The fund drive was well within the jurisdiction of the Senate, and it could have acted on the students' behalf. Neither the student body, nor the representatives of same, gave their approval to spending $1,260 of the students' money. Who did?

Where will the remainder of the money come from? Possibly from the Student Activity Fund, or from the Student Senate's own funds, informed sources say. To take the money from the Student Activity Fund could put a crimp on funds distributed to every organization on campus which receives money from this fund. This includes everything from Spring athletics to the Spring Quarter WINONAN. We urge the newly reorganized Student Activity Fund Committee to carefully consider such a move.

Wherever the money does come from, it appears that it will come — directly or indirectly — from the pockets of a student body who never gave their approval to such a project, and probably never would have.

UN Security Council faces world disfavor

The United Nations Security Council, which has been losing face steadily in the past few years, faces a crisis of its own in light of the current Korean situation.

The UN lost much world favor during its bungling of the Middle East Crisis last summer which resulted in the Six-Day war. But the United States continued to support the UN, both economically and militarily.

Should the Security Council fail to act effectively in settling the current situation in Korea, they could lose the public support of the American people, and the support of the U.S. government, as well as witnessing the initiation of another limited war in Asia.

Satori nears

A new literary magazine has been formed on this campus in the last few months. To be called the SATORI, it will be published once yearly, in the Spring.

Miss Joan Kuzma of the English department advises the publication, and Diane Mager is the editor. The SATORI has set up offices in 320 Gildemeister.

Openings remain on the magazine's staff, and interested persons are asked to contact Diane Mager or Miss Kuzma. The staff is currently accepting artwork and literary contributions at its office.

Tentative deadlines call for all articles to be submitted by early in Spring quarter, with a planned publication date near May 1.

Tryouts Feb. 6, 8

Tryouts will be held February 6 and 8 from 4 to 6 p.m. in Somsen auditorium for Kappa Theta Chi's "Return To Vaudeville" talent show.

Acts may be vaudeville or of any other variety. Contact Keenie Hanscome or Nancy Nelson if you are unable to audition at the times scheduled.

The talent show will be presented on March 5.

Magazine seeks student works; needs talent from many fields

To the Editor:

SATORI — If the preceding word looks familiar it may be because you've seen the halls of Somsen, Gildemeister, and Watkins plastered with that one-word insignia.

Has your curiosity been aroused? If it's been aroused sufficiently you may have resorted to consulting Webster's Collegiate and found that "Satori" is the state of intuitive enlightenment that a Zen Buddhist endeavors to attain. An impressive definition but it doesn't explain the significance of the word here on our campus. The true significance of "Satori" here is that it's the name of a publication that a group of enthusiastic Winona State students are starting.

The purpose of the Satori is "to give vent to the creative talents and energies here on our campus." That stated purpose might sound a little pompous, but all it really means is that there are many, many talented people on this campus who most of us are unaware of because their works are concealed in some folio or stuffed in the back corner of a drawer. We who are starting this publication feel that it's time their creativity is encouraged and gotten out in the open.

We plan a publication that will be wide in scope, one that will include literary work, prose, poetry, essays, artwork (drawings, prints, sketches), and expression of views on current and topical subjects and events — in other words, anything creative or stimulating.

We can use work from many departments — art, English, social science, history — and we encourage everyone, students and faculty, to submit their work or views for publication.

Work to be submitted can be brought to the Satori office (320 Gildemeister) and if anyone is interested in joining the Satori staff or would like further information concerning the publication please contact me (College extension 349).

Student Senate Reports

The main item of business at the Student Senate meeting was the resolution to donate $100 from the treasury to the presidential medallion fund drive. After much discussion and consideration, the majority of the senators voted in favor of the motion, despite the fact that a majority of the club representatives were against the proposal.

Jan Wiest announced that preliminary elections for Campus Cover Girl are to be held this week. In accordance with constitutional regulations, there are to be fifty different ballots, to ensure that each nominee has equal chance to be elected.

IF THE SHOE FITS, EAT IT

"I've just gotta be one of the most beautiful people in the whole wide world.
It's true, it's true, it's true
And I love me.
No one can say that I'm a wall flower
'Cause I've always got something groovy to say.
I've just gotta be one of the most beautiful people in the whole wide world.
It's true, it's true, it's true
And I love me."

—Narcy Sistic

Dear Narcy,
I'm tired of your hypocrisy. Of you.

Tired of your definitions of beauty. Of your women— five foot two, eyes of blue, a hundred and one pounds of fun. The woman I know best in the world weighs over two hundred pounds, but she has a beautiful mind. The most intelligent woman I know would never win one of your "beauty" contests.

Of your intolerance of others. There are 360 degrees out there — if you can only accept fifteen of them, I'm also sorry for you. I'm hopelessly idealistic— there are so many facets to life— I can't understand why you get hung up on appearances.

Sick of you who have passed judgment on me and don't even know me.

Of being thought aloof when actually I'm lonely.

I'm tired of your kind of love, which isn't love at all but rather like fly paper— attractive but immobilizing. Your hate I can ignore when it is based on ignorance.

If you say I'm going in the wrong direction, you are attempting to suppress me. Why? I don't think you even know. Do you feel at twenty some years of age that you have found the answer? I know I haven't. Have I not the right to try?

WSC controls Wartburg meet; action not exciting, but effective

(reprinted from the Winona Daily News)

Maintaining control over an opponent for the better portion of eight minutes may not be the most exciting brand of wrestling as far as the fans are concerned, but it usually results in a victory for the performer.

That was precisely the story Thursday night in Memorial Hall as Winona State chalked up its eighth win in nine dual meets this season with a methodic 21-10 triumph over Wartburg College of Waverly, Iowa. A rather sparse crowd looked on as Winona plodded its way through eight matches. Although the results were the same, the action seemed to lack the fervor of meets in recent seasons, and the spectators reacted accordingly. Warrior coach Bob Gunner was inclined to agree.

"As a team, I don't think we really looked sharp at all," confessed Gunner. "But the boys are just tired . . . last Sunday was the first day off they've had since Dec. 26."

The meet opened at a more stimulating pace than that by which it progressed. Jon Arnold gave the home team a prompt 3-0 lead as he walloped Dick Messerly of Wartburg 10-4. The Warriors' 130-pounder, Jim Bagniewski and Bom Madison kept the scorer busy and the crowd entertained by tossing each other about for three periods, but Bagniewski finally came out on the short end of a 12-8 margin.

Jim Hall, Winona's replacement for Larry Pomeroy in the 137-pound class, took the mat with more of an aggressive approach than his match Saturday night, but he was forced to settle for a 2-2 draw with the Knights' Mick Ketchum.

Rog Jehlicka won his match by forfeit, and Pete Sandberg also wound up in a tie with Tom Turner of Wartburg at 1-1 in the

With unbeaten Ray Wicks somewhat hampered by a combined knee and ankle injury sustained in practice, Gunner decided to use freshman standout Dan Pronsinske of Arcadia in the 167-pound division.

Wicks had suited up also but he was obviously favoring his ankle, and with the Warriors in front 15-7, it was an excellent opportunity to test the rookie. Pronsinske was eager to answer the task and grabbed an early lead over Jim Nelson of Wartburg. But a last-minute take-down by Nelson provided a 6-4 victory for the Knights' contender.

Steve Drange and Ron Moen clinched the win for Winona with a pair of typically rugged decisions over their respective foes. Drange showed some aggressive tactics to throttle Craig Slager 5-1, and Moen was anything but chivalrous as he dethroned Dean Knight 3-2 in the heavyweight match.

Gunner added that he was allowing the team to take the weekend off with a couple of crucial conference clashes on next week's schedule.

"Next Thursday we travel to St. Cloud and Saturday, Moorhead is down here," he said. "St. Cloud hasn't been too impressive this year, but Moorhead will be mighty tough . . . they're strong at every weight."

Warriors trounce Morris before 1500 amazed people

(Reprinted from Winona Sunday News)

To say that Winona State exhibited a peak of its potential Saturday night, or whether University of Minnesota — Morris just had an off night is difficult to determine. But the Warriors did earn themselves sole possession of third place in the Northern Intercollegiate Conference by trouncing Morris 99-68, before an amazed crowd of about 1,500 at Memorial Hall.

Winona used a full-court zone press for the entire contest, and hounded the shabby Cougars into continuous miscues.

The Warriors wasted no time in boosting a 17-point halftime margin to as many as 25 at 67-42 with 10:55 to play.

Gene Schultz, Rick Starzecki, Jack Gibbs and Mark Wilke all were essential components of Winona's scrappy defense. Schultz stole no less than nine passes and led the winners in scoring with 29 points. Wilke followed next with 20 counters, Gibbs bagged 15 and Mike Jeresek added 14.

Doug MacIver had a brilliant second half for Morris and finished with 26 points. Gary Wennerberg was the only other Cougar in double figures with 10.

The home team out-rebounded Morris 18-9 in the second half with Gibbs leading the way with seven.

Winona State now ranks 4-2 in the NIC and stands 8-7 overall. Morris drops to 3-3 in the conference and 6-9 on the season.

The Warriors' modified zone press finally started paying dividends in the closing minutes of the first half.

Back-to-back steals by Gene Schultz and Rick Starzecki resulted in three fastbreak buckets, boosting Winona's lead from 32-24 with 3:10 to go to 41-24 with just under a minute remaining. That's the way it was at intermission.

Winona managed to out-rebound the burly Cougars 19-7 in the first 20 minutes. Mike Jeresek, the NIC's leading rebounder, grabbed five of the caroms and Schultz and Mark Wilke had four each. Doug MacIver topped the visitors on the boards with five.

The Warriors never relinquished the lead following a nifty baseline shot by Jack Gibbs which put them out in front 8-7 with 14:40 left.

Wilke and Schultz led Winona's scoring in the first half with four points each and Gibbs added seven. Morris was led by reserve guard Garry Wennerberg with eight.

Winona State next plays at La Crosse State Tuesday and then Saturday travels to St. Cloud to meet the league-leading Huskies.

Swim team wins relay to defeat Stevens Point

(Reprinted from Winona Sunday News)

Minus two-time All-American Larry Calvert, Winona State's swimming team had to win the final relay to defeat Stevens Point 56-47 in a dual meet Friday evening.

The foursome of Ron Amdahl, Bill Braun, Greg Brand and George Kazika splashed the final 400-yard freestyle relay in 3:36.5 to annex the triumph for the Warriors in a warmup for the heavy part of the schedule which will come in February.

Winona is now 3-1 in dual meets and a triangular schedule for February. The first one will come next Saturday when the Warriors host St. Thomas.

Besides swimming in the winning relay, both Amdahl and Kazika set Stevens Point pool records in individual events. After Stevens Point won the opening relay Amdahl burrowed the 1,000-yard freestyle in 12:08.1 for a new pool record. Then Kazika, another Warrior All-American, churned the 200-free in 1:56.3.

Kazika also won the 500-yard freestyle to become the only double winner of the meet.
